Fill-In the Blank, Camp Whitcomb/Mason style!

How to play: One person is the writer, and the rest of the group (1-10 people) are editors. The writer will call out what word is missing (noun, verb, adjective etc.) and the editors need to reply with a word that fits the description. The writer will fill in all the blanks for the story, then read it out loud with the new words in place. It is best to wait until all the blanks are filled in before reading the story!

Quick Review:
An adjective describes something or somebody. Lumpy, soft, ugly, messy and short are all adjectives.

An adverb tells how something is done. It modifies a verb and usually ends in “ly.” Modestly, stupidly, greedily, and carefully are adverbs.

A noun is the name of a person, place or thing. Sidewalk, umbrella, bathtub, and nose are all nouns.

A proper noun is the formal name of a person, place or thing. Camp Whitcomb/Mason, Spain, or Beyoncé are all proper nouns.

A verb is an action word. Run, jump, eat, and sit are all verbs. If the directions say “past tense” put the verbs in the past tense. Ran, jumped, ate, and sat are verbs in the past tense.

When we ask for a place, we mean any sort of place. It could be a country or city (Spain, or Milwaukee) or a room (bathroom or kitchen).

When we ask for specific words like number, color, animal, or part of the body, we mean a word that is one of those things!
