

Story starter!

---

Floating gently through the clear blue sky, Billy stared ahead, hoping he would reach his destination soon. The clouds were endless; covering the horizon as far as the eye could see.

He had set off with a dream but didn't know if it would come true. As the clouds parted, he could not believe what he could see...

Perfect picture!

---

Draw what you would like to find beneath the clouds.

